50,000	Tickets, at Eight Dollars,		40,0000

N. B. To favour those who may take a quantity of Tickets, the prize of 40,000 dollars will be the LAST drawn ticket, and the 30,000 the LAST but ONE:

And approved notes, securing payment in either money or prizes, in ten days after drawing, will be received for any number not less than 30 tickets.

This Lottery will afford an elegant specimen of the private buildings to be erected in the City of Washington—Two beautiful designs are already selected for the entire fronts on two of the public squares; from these prawings it is proposed to erect two centre and four corner buildings, as soon as possible after this lottery is sold, and to convey them, when complete, to the fortunate adventurers, in the manner described in the scheme for the Hotel Lottery. A nett deduction of five per cent. will be made to defray the necessary expenses of printing, &c. and the surplus will be made a part of the fund intended for the National University, to be erected within the city of Washington.

The Drawing will commence as soon as the tickets are sold off.—The money prizes will be payable in thirty days after it is finished; and any prizes for which fortunate numbers are not produced within twelve months after the drawing is closed, are to be considered as given towards the fund for the University; it being determined to settle the whole business in a year from the ending of the drawing, and to take up the bonds given as security.

The real securities given for the payment of the Prizes, are held by the President and two Directors of the Bank of Columbia, and are valued at more than half the amount of the lottery.

The twenty four gentlemen who by appointment of the late Commissioners assisted in the management of the Hotel Lottery are requested to undertake this arduous task a second time on behalf of the public; a sufficient number of these having kindly accepted, it is hoped that the friends to a National University and the other federal objects may continue to favor the design.

By accounts received from the different parts of the Continent as well as from Europe, where the tickets have been sent for sale, the public are assured that the drawing will speedily commence, and that the care and caution unavoidably necessary to insure a safe disposal of the tickets, has rendered the inter suspension indispensable.

SAMUEL BLODGET.

§ Tickets may be had at the Bank of Columbia; of James West & Co. Baltimore; of Peter Gilman, Boston; of John Hopkins, Richmond; and of Richard Wells, Cooper's Ferry.

Lost,

ON Thursday 30th June, on the road from Philadelphia to the Falls of Schuylkill, and about the fifth mile, a brown and white mottled POINTER DOG, answers to the name of DON, had on round his neck a collar engraved Waller Phillips, Philadelphia. Whoever will bring him to Mr. Kid, No. 192 Market-street, will receive a reward of ten dollars.

N. B. The owner suspects that the Dog is tied up, else he would have returned. The above reward will be given to any person giving that information if true.

Chien d'Arret perdu.

JEUDI le 30th Juin on a perdu sur la route de Philadelphie aux Chutes de la Schuylkill, à cinq milles de la ville, un Chien d'Arret marqué de taches blanches et brunes. Il réponde au nom de DON et porte un collier sur lequel sont gravé les mots Waller Phillips, Philadelphia. Quiconque menera ce chien chez Monsieur Kid, rue du Marché, aura dix gourdes de récompense.

Il y a lieu de soupconner que le chien est tenu attaché quelque part; autrement il seroit déjà révénue de luimême. On donnera la dite recompense a celui qui peut indiquer le lieu ou ce chien se trouve maintenant.

Foreign Intelligence.

From LONDON PAPERS of May 18, by the MANCHESTER from Liverpool.

LONDON, May 18.

This morning advices were received in town, from admiral Duncan's fleet cruizing in the North seas, by which it appears he has taken the Dutch frigate Argo, of 44 guns, a brig of 18, and driven two armed brigs on shore near the mouth of the Texel.

Our correspondent at Framlington writes that on Monday last there was the greatest fall of snow in the vicinity of that place, ever remembered by the oldest man living there.

From the London Gazette.

Admiralty Office, May 17, 1796.

Extract of a letter from Vice Admiral Colpoys, dated on board his Majesty's ship London at Spithead, the 14th inst. to Mr, Nepean, Secretary to the Admiralty.

"I herewith transmit you, for the information of my Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, copies of two letters received from Capt. Foote, of his Majesty's ship Niger, giving me an account of his proceedings at different times I detached him on shore in the coast of France.

Niger, near the Peamarks, April 27, 1796.

SIR,

I have the honour to inform you, that from the time I made the signal of the chace being an enemy's cruizer, I continued working towards her.—By sunshet our shot reached her; and shortly after the signal being made for three fathoms, I anchored within half cable's length of a rock, (most of which was covered at high water) and a mile from the main land; a spring was got upon the cable, and a constant fire kept up till near nine o'clock, when I sent Messrs. Long and Thompson, the first and third lieutenant, Mr. Morgan, master's mate, and Mr. Patton, midshipman, in the barge and cutters, with their crews and six marines, giving directions to Lieut. Long to set fire to the vessel, if he could not bring her off. At half past ten the boats returned, with a second captain, a midshipman, and 26 men, having so effectually performed this service, that, at twenty nine minutes past twelve, she blew up. It was with great difficulty they got along side of the enemy, the tide have ebbed considerably, and they experienced a very obstinate resistance, the greatest part of her crew having remained on board, several of whom lost their lives. She proved a corvette, lugger rigged, called L'Ecurial mounting 18 four pounders, commanded by Mons. Rousseau, having 105 men on board. She was coppered, and had only been launched two years.

Signed. E. J. FOOTE.

Inclosed is a return of the wounded officers, seame and marines.

Return of wounded on board his Majesty's ship Niger, April 26, 1796.

Lieut Long, first Lieut. severely wounded on the head and hand.

Mr. James Patton, Midshipman, on the head.

Three seamen and 2 marines slightly wounded.

Signed. E. J. FOOTE.

Niger, at Sea, May 8, 1796.

SIR,

In compliance with the orders which I had the honor to receive from you on the 4th instant, I stood for the French coast, and by seven o'clock the next morning fetched close in with the eastern part of the Isle Dieu, where I discovered, and immediately gave chace to and ran on shore, a French schooner and sloop. The schooner was completely bilged; the sloop laden with wine and brandy, was brought off and taken in tow; but in a short time she became so water logged, that I scuttled her.

Admiralty Office, May 17, 1796.

Copy of a letter from Admiral Peyton, commander in chief of his majesty's ships in the Downs, to Mr. Nepean, Secretary to the Admiralty, dated May 15, 1796.

SIR,

You will be pleased to acquaint their Lordships, that the Flora armed cutter, lieut. Reddy, is just returned here from looking into Dunkirk, and has brought in with him L'Epervier French lugger, mounting 2 two pounders and 6 swivels, with 26 men, he captured close in with Havre de Grace, on the 10th inst. and had not taken any thing.

PARIS, May 11.

Extract of a letter from Brigadier General Dutilh.

"NANTES, 2d FLOREAL.

"Almost all the Communes from Nantes to Ancenis have surrendered their arms.

"The Debrues, Valeri, Jousselin, Fayet, all Chiefs of the army of Stofflet have come in with their arms, and have promised submission to the laws of the French Republic."

Extract of a letter from General Drut to General Hoche.

ROZAY, 3d FLOREAL.

"The Chouans are hastening to their dissolution in the Department of the Lower Loire. I ordered a general offer of pardon to be made on the 1st which was productive of the happiest effects.

"The question with the Royal Army at present is, whether they shall surrender in detachments or in a mass."

LONDON, May 18.

Vigorous measures were adopted, on the late conspiracy, and on the morning of the 12th, the utmost tranquility prevailed in Paris. It must be confessed, that the present seems to be the most unpropitious period that could have been chosen for a conspiracy—for in neither of the two Councils does there exist any violent spirit of party; between the Legislature and the Directory, there are the utmost harmony and concert; the great mass of the people appear to be sincerely attached to the constitution; and under the present Government the arms of France have atchieved the most brilliant victories.

The conspiracy, however, has afforded the most convincing proof of the energy and strength of the Government.

Peace, according to the Paris papers, will be immediately concluded between the King of Sardinia and the French Republic. It is even said, that the Emperor has entered into negociations with the Republic.

The army of the Alps, under the command of General Kellerman, has just effected a junction with the army of Italy, under the command of Gen. Buonaparte, and the united armies are on the point of entering the Milanese.

The campaign had not commenced on the Rhine on the 9th inst.

NEWRY, May 11.

On Tuesday evening last arrived at Warren point, the ship America, Capt. Palmer, laden with flax seed from New-York, which port she left the 10th of February. On the 14th she encountered a severe gale, which continued with encreasing violence till the 22d; about three o'clock P. M. in lat. 39, 58, long. 47, 50, a large sea struck the ship, stove in her dead lights, and laid her on her beam ends, she was filling fast with water when another sea (as they suppose) struck her, by which she righted, but how dreadful the prospect, six of the best seamen swept over board and clinging to pieces of the wreck; mast, rigging, boats, anchors, bowsprit, head, stern, and quarter rails, binnacle, kitcheg, water and harness casks, even the timber heads, all were gone close by the deck. The first exertions were directed to the unfortunate men who were struggling with the waves, but they could save only one, five perished. In three days they were able to shape their course for the Western Islands, distant about 1200 miles, having converted one of the remaining anchor stocks into a tiller, some spars into jury masts, and in 21 days arrived at Fayal; in five weeks were refitted, and on last Saturday morning made the S. E. coast of Ireland, at night struck the tail of Wicklow sands but was soon got off. On Monday night she ran on Sheep rock, inside Carlingford bar, where she struck, every moment expected to go to pieces, when the was saved by the great, uncommon, and highly praise worthy exertions of James Read, Esq. surveyor of Carlingford, who instantly double manned the king's shallop, and armed with every necessary for the ship's protection, collected all the vessels small craft and boats, at or near Carlingford, and got along side the ship by break of day. He instantly proceeded to lighten her, by which means she was got off the rocks, and her cargo saved. Mr. Read saw her safe into port, where she is now discharging the remainder of her cargo.

WALPOLE (N. H.) July 12

For the FARMER'S WEEKLY MUSEUM.

From the shop of Messrs. Colon and Spondee.

ATTENTION, HAYMAKERS!

Suspend your scythes—Lean upon your pitchforks—Stick your rakes in the sod, and while the refreshing pitcher goes merrily round, listen to Neighbour Winrow's advice upon drinking.

Fellow Labourers,

WHEN we sweat most, we thirst most, and drink most abundantly—You will all pronounce that liquor best, which makes you most strong and healthy.

Then do not drink slip—The body in this sultry season being extremely heated, acts like a still, the rum immediately flies off, and the heavy, clammy dregs of the beer and sugar, remain to clog the stomach, render the laborer dull and weak, and often excite inflammatory disease.

Do not drink toddy or milk punch, for the same reason.

If rum, brandy, whisky, gin or other ardent spirits must be drank, take half a gill at a time, unmixed, and immediately drink large draughts of water after it. For the same reason, when a man is crack brained enough to throw a fire brand into a magazine of powder, he cannot do better, than to throw water upon the burning coals as fast as possible.

Drink Switchel, that is, molasses or maple sugar mixed with water.

Drink whey, or milk and water, two-thirds water—spruce or small bear.

Drink cider. Not boiled—if you would be merry, but cider and water, if you would be healthy, happy and wise. The acid in cider is the best preventative against all putrid disorders.

Drink vinegar and water for the same reason.

Drink pure water—You have been told frightful stories about people whose fat has been cooled, and who have died suddenly by drinking cold water. Set the pail in the sun, half an hour before you use it; or rinse your mouth three or four times with the coldest water and you may then drink freely from the coldest spring. If the water is much colder than your bodies it will then do you no harm; it will streugthen and quicken your animal functions, will make you sweat copiously and freely; your nap at noon, and slumbers at night, will be pleasant and refreshing, and you will need, at the next dawn, no other call to awake you than the chirping of the early bird—you will arise to the next day's labour like a giant, refreshed with wine.

Do you doubt what I say, let the stoutest grog bruizer come and try a fall at wrestling with me, a temperate water drinker of sixty-five years of age—or stake out an acre of foul meadow, and see who will cut it first.

Fellow labourers, when you work for yourselves you will readily allow that the disuse of strong liquors will be a great saving to your purses. If you want to know how great, go and inspect your accounts at the traders, if not listen to my calculation. Say the hay-season lasts, taking the after growth into the calculation, one month, say that you have three hands to work—allow them each half a pint of rum each day. This will amount, by a rough calculation, to six gallons, which at twelve shillings a gallon for West-India rum, would cost twelve dollars, besides the expence of sugar. New-England rum, it is true, would be something less, but brandy something more. Now the sum of twelve dollars in these hard times, would do many valuable things for a farmer—it might purchase three calves, which would treble in two years. It would pay the ministerial, the town, the county or state taxes of a small farmer. It would buy many a comfortable matter for his wife when she blesses him with the rich present of a sturdy boy, or healthy girl. It might effect a valuable swop in oxen, or perhaps pay two or three small notes or accounts, or such part of them as may prevent the lawyer from making two or three bills of cost, each larger than the original debt, and to save the favourite mare, or the likely two year old colt, from being taken by the sheriff, and sold for half their value at the post.

But some of you, fellow-labourers, drink strong liquors when you work out as we do now, because you say they cost you nothing; and you are ready to call your employers stingy who wish to discountenance the use of spirits. You are mistaken, my friends, every gill of rum given to you by those, who hire you, costs you much.

Sometimes it costs you a quarrel with your best friends, sometimes a bloody nose, or broken limb, and often a lawsuit, and bill of cost, or a fine upon confession, before a justice of the peace, for assault and battery; and often a long doctor's bill for a disorder, which you may not, but the physician knows arose from this very cause of strong liquors. Sometimes it costs you the respect of your townsmen; the regard of your children, and love of your wife. Sometimes your reputation in this world, and I fear, your happiness in the next. Are not these heavy costs, friends?

Thus spoke Jotham Winrow, to a gang of haymakers, in my uncle Jotham's meadow. The whole gang immediately cried out, "Jotham Winrow has spoken wisely"—They clubb'd upon the spot, and sent a boy to the next grog shop for a humming pitcher of flip, and ordered half a pint more, than the usual quantity of rum to be stirred into it, and all with one accord got tipsey by drinking the health of the wise Jotham Winrow.

IMRI RIFLE.

The fourth of July was not noticed at Walpole and the neighbouring towns in this, or Vermont state, by the pageantry of a procession, or the turbulent mirth of convivial feasts. We cannot say that the day was celebrated, either in the French or Boston style, but soberly, as my Lady Grace says in the play.

Let wild enthusiasts rush in throngs,
And madly rend the hurried air;
With boisterous toasts, and hiccup'd songs,
The honors of Genet declare.

Our decent farmer's, wiser far,
Bless Him, who gave these halycon days,
And calm as WASHINGTON in war.
In sober silence muse his praise.

SUICIDE.

"For some have died for love, and some run mad,
And some with desperate hands themselves have slain."

On Saturday evening, the second of July, at Alstead in this vicinity Joel Baker, a youth of eighteen; died, not in the course of nature, but by his own hand. Enamoured of a young woman in the vicinity, he addressed, and was rejected by her. Desperate at the disappointment of the wishes of a heart, unfortunately too susceptible, he communicated to the object of his affection, and to a few of his companions, his intention to abridge a life, no longer gladsome. Their unbelief gave him time and opportunity to execute the work of death. He loaded a musket—and perished prematurely.

Though the voice of Religion must censure the unhallowed deed, yet pity weeps over the frenzy of passion, and reason enquires why the noblest gifts to man should be sometimes perverted, and tempt him to violate a law of his being, which none, but its Creator may take away.

OF THE WESTERN POSTS, &c.

Mr. Russell,

As beyond all doubt, the Western Posts are by this time in the possession of the troops of the United States; and as emigrations into that part of the republic will doubtless be numerous; if you would insert in the Centinel the following, you may do service to some of your fellow citizens; and will certainly amuse and inform others.

Yours, CONSTANTIUS.

EXTRACTS

From a Journey into the Western Territory, in '94.

"From Albany, I proceeded to Schenectady, fifteen miles by stage. Schenectady is a handsomely situated little town on the banks of the Mohawk river. At this place I took an open boat, navigated by three men, in which I passed to Lake Ontario, without any other interruption than two short portages, one at the little falls of half a mile, round which they are now cutting a canal; the other of one mile, at Fort Stanwix, about one hundred miles west of Schenectady; at which place we leave the Mohawk river, and descend the torrent to Oswego, one hundred miles more to the west, where the British hold a post at the entrance of Lake Ontario, commanded by a captain. The high price which hatters' furs at present command in the United States, is the only inducement I conceive for smuggling past the post, for except a few articles imported from the East Indies, I found the retail shops at Kingston and Niagara, selling as low, and many articles, particularly woolens, lower than in the city of Philadelphia.

"From Oswego, vessels sail to Niagara, Kingston, and other ports on the lake; but settlers more frequently continue along the south shore of the lake to Niagara, about one hundred and twenty miles in open boats; finding a vessel here ready to sail for Kingston, I embarked in her for that place, about 12 hours sail.

"From Kingston I proceed to Niagara, in a schooner of upwards of one hundred tons burthen across this little sea of fresh water; a sea it may justly be called, for we are a great part of the time for three days out of sight of the land; though passages have been made in twenty hours; we enter the Niagara river between the fort and the town called Newark, with a beautiful prospect of both.

"The fort stands in a commanding situation on a point formed by the junction of the river and lake, upon the east side of the river, and is a regular fortification, in good repair, and well garrisoned.

"The mouth of this river affords a safe and copious harbour, sufficiently large for half the British navy.

"The town of Newark is situated in lat. 43 north, on the west banks of the river, extending along the lake about a mile, enjoying in the summer the fresh breezes from this little sea, in almost every direction, plentifully supplied with fish at all seasons of the year. In the winter here are caught by seins, quantities of white fish, which seem to be peculiar to that river, they are generally from two to six pounds weight, and are considered the best fish in the lakes; besides these sturgeon, bass, and many other excellent fish, are in great plenty; salmon are taken in all the creekes round the lake; these varieties of fish are not only esteemed a luxury, but a great assistance to new beginners in supporting their families, many laying in a half dozen barrels or more for their winter's use.

"The lower landing or Queenston, is about seven miles up the river from Newark, where the vessels discharge their cargoes, and take in furs collected from three to one thousand five hundred miles back, there I have seen four vessels of sixty and one hundred tons burthen, unloading at the same time, and sometimes not less than sixty waggons loaded in a day, which loads they carry ten miles to the upper landing place or Chipawa creeks, three miles past the great falls. From Chipawa the merchandize is transported in batteaux to Fort Erie, a distance of eighteen miles and are shipped there on board of vessels for Detroit and Michilimackinac. Detroit, I was told was a pleasant country, through a low and marshy soil, more noted for its fur trade, than its agriculture.

"Niagara is at present the temporary seat of government, consisting of a governor, a legislative council, and house of assembly chosen by the people; here annually in the month of May, they meet for the purpose of legislation. Members of the assembly are chosen for four years, and have already sat three sessions.

"The streights of Niagara, from its peculiar situation, being the channel through which all the produce of the vast country above must pass, is looked forward to as a place of the first consequence, and where a farmer will at all times find a market for his produce, the transport being easy from thence to the Atlantic. Here have I seen with amazement that famed cataract, which exceeds every description I have ever heard of it, but it would be idle in me to pretend to give you an idea of it—It strikes the eye with more grandeur and sublimity than the pen can convey. Among many other natural curiosities, a spring about two miles above these falls, attracts the attention of the curious; emitting a gas, or inflammable air, which, when confined in a pipe, and a flame applied to it, will boil the water of a tea kettle in fifteen minutes: Whether this may hereafter be applied by machinery, to useful purposes, time will determine. It was lately discovered by clearing away and burning the brush under the bank of the river, to erect a mill, and was observed after the brush was consumed to burn for days together, to the great astonishment of the inhabitants.

"About three hundred miles west of this fort Detroit situate on the east side of the streights, between lake Erie and Huron, around which, a French settlement was established before the reduction of the province, but attending more to the Indian trade than agriculture, made but little progress as farmers. The English settlements lately begun on the opposite shore are already in a high state of cultivation, however the French have fine orchards, from which Niagara is at present supplied with cyder and apples.

"To the northward of Detroit about three hundred and fifty miles, lies fort Michilimackinac, on an island between lake Huron and Michigan, is aboute five miles round, and an entire bed of gravel incapable of cultivation, but most remarkable for being the general depot and grand rendezvous of all the Indian traders, who meet in the month of June from every quarter, delivering their furs and receive their outfits for the ensuing year. Spanish settlements many miles down the Mississippi are supplied with British goods through this channel, to much greater advantage than from New-Orleans where the rapids of the Mississippi oppose almost unsurmountable difficulties in ascending it.

"This fort, the forts of Detroit, Niagara, and Oswego, fell within the United States, when the lines of separation were drawn, at the treaty of peace, in the year one thousand seven hundred and eighty three; fort Miami, which was built by the British lately, is also within those lines.

Last evening were married, by the Rev. Doctor Andrews, Mr. William Harrison, jun. to Mrs. Sarah Miller.

Extract of a letter, dated New-York, July 20th, 1796

"Reports are spreading that we have the Yellow Fever amongst us, and I believe we have had a few instances of it, but do not find that it increases yet."

Several other letters from New-York contain the like disagreeable information.

The Star of the 18th of May, the latest London paper brought by the Manchester, says,

"We are informed from very high authority, that parliament will be prorogued to-morrow, and dissolved by proclamation on Friday."

☞ The Letter bag of the ship Harriet, capt. Norman, for Hamburgh, will be taken from the Post-office at 5 o'clock to-morrow evening.

The ship General Washington, captain Perry, the ship Huldy, captain Warner, and the brig Friendship, captain Trott, for Philadelphia, were advertised in Gore's Liverpool Advertiser of May 19. The Huldy to sail the 30th of May.

The ship Eliza. captain Benson, of Baltimore, has arrived at Liverpool.

Extract of a letter from Madame de la Fayette, to General Ferrarri, (one of the Emperor's Ministers.)

"I am particularly grateful, for the regret you express at the impossibility of granting my requests. I made them in the first instance to the commanding officer of Olmuts, because his Imperial Majesty had told me to address myself to him—I made them in writing because I had no means of seeing him.

"I asked 1st. Permission to go to mass, because I ought to do every thing in my power to go to it, on Sundays and hollidays.

"2d. To be attended occasionally by a servant, because having learnt when at Vienna, that M. Bournonville, Camus, Bancal, and others, Conventional prisoners, who had servants, enjoyed here the liberty of seeing them all the day long, I flattered myself that the same favor might be granted to me for some moments.

"I have also asked that M. de Maubourg and De Puzy might pass some hours with us, because in the different prisons of France, in Robespierre's time (where, as you know, I have passed sixteen months) I was in the habits of seeing the prisoners communicate with each other.

"I beg pardon, for having in this respect allowed my confidence to carry me too far.

"I confess with great pleasure, that we agreed to paticipate all the rigours of M. de la Fayette's prison, and that this was the only favor we applied for. Our sentiments are still the same, and we repeat with all our hearts, that we are happier with M. de la Fayette, even in this prison, than we should be any where else without him.

"To justify, however, the liberty I have taken with you, I will remind you, sir, that his Imperial Majesty in the audience he was pleased to grant me, had the goodness to say to me that "I should find M. de la Fayette very well treated, and that if I had any request to make, I should be well satisfied with the commanding officer."

"I have also the honor of reminding you sir, that his Imperial Majesty permitted me to write directly to himself, and to address my letter to the Prince of Rosemberg; and, as since we have been shut up, I have been utterly deprived of the means of writing to the Emperor, or even to Mr. Rosemberg, I conceived it my duty to address my requests to you, and beg you will excuse me, if they have appeared somewhat exaggerated to you.

BY THIS DAY's MAILS.

BOSTON, July 16.

No particulars of the late engagement heard off the bay have transpired.—There are three French frigates on the coast, the Concorde, the Insurgent, and another.

It was reported yesterday, but upon no accountable authority, that the Concord French frigate had captured the Hussar British frigate. It is not impossible but that the report may be founded on truth.

Yesterday arrived here the French privateer Amor de la Patrie, from a cruise. She has sent in a prize.

The emigrations to the United States increase in rapid progression; maugre the sombre shades thrown over her character and prospects by the disorganizing faction.

FROM ST. VINCENTS, June 13.

Extract from a letter.

"It may be interesting to you to know how things go with the French and English. St. Lucia is totally in possession of the former; they stormed the forts, and succeeded in carrying them. Some negroes, and naturalized French were hanged, and some brought to this place for the same purpose. The commander in chief, Sir Ralph Abercrombie, arrived from thence to this place, seven days ago, with part of the forces to retake the windward side of this island from the French and Charibs, who have had possession, a long time past. On the 10th at sunrise, the British commenced their attack with 4,300 men; at two in the afternoon they stormed and took the old fort, and three redoubts between it, and the new fort, About three the firing ceased; and a flag of truce from the French came in.—Finally it was settled to surrender all the possessions on the island to the British, and the French prisoners to receive the honors of war. Those who were natural subjects of Great Britain, and had joined the French, were to be at the discretion of the commander in chief—as also those negroes who fled to them.—The Charibs, however, in the night, as well as the plantation negroes, got into the woods, and a body of rangers and riflemen are after them. On the 11th, at 3 o'clock, P. M. the prisoners came in, and were conveyed on board the different ships in the harbour. Such a shabby set I never beheld before. They amounted in all to above 400, out of whom only five or six were white men; the others were negroes and mulattoes. They were commanded by a negro, who had a French commission of Captain, as had also many of the other negroes and mulattoes. They came into town with their side arms, and (omitting the bulk of the prisoners, who were the dirtiest and most ragged crew under heaven) appeared decently drest in their uniform."

The English successes in the West-Indies, have not been equal to the immense expense of blood and treasure lavished to attain them. In one action at St. Lucia, we are assured by a correspondent, they lost six hundred men.

Notwithstanding we are not able to lay before our readers this day, the report of Marbois, announced in our last, we can assure them, that even a Hamilton, whose knowledge of the law of nations, whose talents and investigation, and uniform candour and liberality are universally acknowledged, could not have vindicated the rights of a neutral nation more forcibly, nor have condemned the Genetan conduct adopted in the United States, with more effect.

The French Directory are clothed with much more power than the President of the United States. Besides appointments, in which they have not to advise with a Council or Senate, they have the regulation of the armed force of the Republic; and they have lately encreased the number of polie soldiers, of those they have at their immediate command to execute their order, to 13,000 men.

Arrived ship Eagle, Capt. Sweat, 40 days from Lisbon, via Marblehead. Spoke July 2, brig Blossom, Capt. Mark Pool, bound to Hamburgh, 7 days from Boston. NEW-YORK, July 21.

On Monday last, was heard before the Mayor, a complaint made by Messrs. George Lord, and Samuel Lord, of the 7th ward of this city, carpenters, against Geo. Tibberths, one of the cartmen, who drives No. 28, for a fraud. The following is a statement of the facts which appeared upon the examination: That Mr. Tibberths was employed by Messrs. Lord to cart two loads of plank from the Albany bason at the north river, to the Bowery, for which cartage, Messrs. Lord paid him eight shillings: That Messrs. Lord, as usual, intrusted him with the monies to pay to a captain Martling the amount of his bill for those planks; that upon such payment, Mr. Tibberths demanded of him also eight shillings for the cartage; that Martling at first refused, but Tibberths peremptorily insisted upon the payment thereof, and capt. Martling then paid him the eight shillings; that upon its being discovered by Messrs. Lord that he had extorted payment from capt. Martling also, Tibberths had returned the last mentioned sum to Martling.

Upon this statement of facts, the Mayor has displaced Mr. Tibberths from the office of a cartman of this city.

ST. LUCIA RE-TAKEN.

Last evening it was reported that St. Lucia was re-taken by the French. It was received by an arrival at Portsmouth.

KINGSTON, June 16.

His majesty's brig Drake, and schooner Port-Royal, arrived late on Tuesday evening from the Mole.

The Drake has taken and brought in with her, a French privateer sloop named the General Thoussaint, and a French schooner l'Oiseau; the commander of the former says he sailed from Port-de-Paix with a commission to cruize against the English, and had also instructions to send into that port, all American vessels he should fall in with, laden with provisions, which are extremely scarce there, flour selling at 30 dollars per barrel. He adds that they were in daily expectation of the arrival of Richery's squadron at Cape Francois; at which place the master of l'Oiseau, says that Santhonax and General Rochambeau arrived in the ate armament, which consists of two sail of the ine, five frigates, and fifteen transports.

The American schooner Polly, capt. Easton, arrived on Tuesday evening, in 3 days from St. Jago de Cuba; she had been taken by the privateer Rights of Man, and all her cargo condemned and sold. The captain reports that a French privateer called Frebostie, a schooner mounting 2 guns, is cruising on the outside of the harbour, which took some days ago an English barque, and a brig bound to this island off the west end of St. Domingo; these vessels are laying in the outer road of St. Jago de Cuba, and not permitted to enter. The capt. likewise mentions that, a schooner privateer with one only, and a pilot boat which sails remarkably fast, and with about thirty men, are cruizing on the north side of this island.

FOR SALE,

A very Valuable Estate,

CALLED TWITTENHAM, situate in the township of Upper Derby, and county of Delaware, 7 1-2 miles from Philadelphia, and half a mile from the new Western road, containing 230 acres of excellent land, 45 of which are good watered meadow, 90 of prime woodland, and the rest arable of the first quality. There are on the premises a good two story brick house, with 4 rooms on a floor, and cellars under the whole, with a pump well of excellent water in front; a large frame barn, stables, and other convenient buildings; a smoke-house and stone spring-house; two good apple orchards, and one of peaches. The fields are all in clover, except those immediately under tillage, and are so laid out as to have the advantage of water in each of them, which renders it peculiarly convenient for grazing.

The situation is pleasant and healthy, and from the high cultivation of the land, the good neighbourhood, and the vicinity to the city, it is very suitable for a gentleman's country seat.

The foregoing is part of the estate of Jacob Harman, deceased, and offered for sale by

PROPOSALS,

By BIOREN & MADAN,

For publishing by Subscription, that celebrated Work,

Godwin's Political Justice.

From the last London Edition.

TERMS:

I. It will be published in two large volumes, duodecimo.

II. Price to Subscribers, two dollars, handsomely bound, to be paid on delivery of the work,

III. As soon as a number of Subscribers appear, sufficient to defray the expence, it shall be put to press.

IV. The names of the Subscribers shall be prefixed.

Th following Character of this work is extracted from the Monthly Review, p 311, 312, for March, 1793.

"We have no small degree of pleasure in announcing the present work to our readers; as one which from the freedom of its enquiry, the grandeur of its views, and the fortitude of its principles, is eminently deserving of attention. By this eulogium, we would by no means be understood to subscribe to all the principles which these volumes contain. Knowledge is not yet arrived at that degree of certainty which is requisite, for any two men to think alike on all subjects; neither has language attained that consistent accuracy, which can enable them to convey their thoughts, even when they do think alike, in a manner perfectly correct and intelligible to both. These difficulties are only to be overcome by a patient, incessant, and benevolent investigation.

"Many of the opinions which this work contains, are bold; some of them are novel; and some doubtless are erroneous:—but that which ought to endear it even to those whose principles it may offend, is the strength of argument adduced in it to prove, that peace and order most effectually promote the happiness after which political reformers are panting;—that as the progress of knowledge is gradual, political reform ought not to be precipitate;—and that convulsive violence is dangerous not only to individuals (for that result comparatively would be of small account) but to the general cause of truth. It is the opposite of this principle that inspires the enemies of political enquiry with so much terror; it is the supposition that change must inevitably be attended by the turbulence and injustice of commotion; and that innovation cannot be made without the intervention of evils more destructive than those which are intended to be reformed. Under the conviction of this philanthropic sentiment, of calm and gradual reform, (which in its proper place he has fully illustrated) Mr. GODWIN proceeds without scruple first to enquire into present evil, through its essential branches, and next to demonstrate future good.

"Dividing his work into eight books, and making THE IMPORTANCE OF POLITICAL INSTITUTIONS the subject of the first, he begins by an attempt to prove the omnipotence of government over the moral habits of mankind; and that on these moral habits their wisdom, virtue and felicity depend."

(Of the New Theatre)

TAKES this opportunity of returning thanks to his scholars and to the public. Mr. Francis intends, on his return from Maryland, to open a public academy for dancing, upon a plan entirely new. He flatters himself that his attention to his pupils hitherto renders any promises of conducting his future schemes on the most liberal and strictest terms, of propriety, totally unnecessary.

N. B. Private tuition as usual.

Urbanna Mill Seats,

SITUATE in Cecil county, Maryland, on the banks of the river Susquehanna, about one mile above tide water, and commanding the water of that important river, the channel conducting the trade of which comes so near the Mill Seats as to make it convenient to speak the boats; and Mills may be so situated as to receive them along their walls, and by water lifts take in their cargoes.

There is a power sufficient for many and any kind of useful Water Works, and so much may be justly said in commendation of this Scite as would be inconvenient to insert in a newspaper publication.

Those who may desire to be concerned, will probably find themselves well pleased on viewing the situation.

Leases for any term of years may be obtained on application to the subscriber, living on the premises.
